Airship Experts Will Be Examined In Akron Probe

First Session Of Inquiry Fails To Show Real Cause Of Disaster

SEARCH FOR BODIES CONTINUES AT SEA

Tanker Recovers Body Of Guest Officer Near Scene Of Crash

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The leading airship experts of the nation were sought by the house naval affairs sub-committee on aeronautics in an effort to fathom the mystery of the real cause of the Akron's tragic plunge into the ocean.

Admitting the first session of the inquisitorial body failed to give an answer to the question, members were engaged in canvassing a list of experts.

Hope For More Light. They were hopeful that Lieut. Comdr. H. V. Wiley and the enlisted men survivors, R. E. Deal and M. F. Erwin, may be able to throw more light upon the tragedy after they have had a chance to study and reflect.

Chairman Vinson (D) of Georgia, of the naval affairs committee said engineers of the bureau of standards will examine the metal in the airship if pieces are recovered.

It is expected that Commander C. E. Rosendahl, the navy's leading airship skipper and former commander of the Akron; Dr. Karl Arstein, chief builder, and many other engineers and experts will be summoned.

Out of the initial testimony of the three survivors came this question: Did the giant airship begin cracking up and then start to fall, or did it

PA NEW OBSERVES

Those old sayings: "There is nothing new under the sun" and "History repeats itself" verified themselves again today when Mrs. Mary McKee showed Pa New a sample of script issued 117 years ago in New Castle. Mrs. McKee, who resides at New Wilmington, found the slip of script when looking through some old papers this week. It had been made on February 3, 1815 and was for the amount of 25 cents, signed "Stewart Boyd."

Pa New was somewhat surprised this morning to note that the street sign at the corner of Highland and Garfield avenues reads "Mills Way" on the Highland avenue side.

And by the way, some of the street signs on Highland avenue could be given a little attention with benefit. They seem to have developed an inclination to point several directions in addition to horizontal.

Three youngsters in a sedan parked on North Mercer street this morning kept themselves amused by tooting the horn of the car. A nice time was had by all—with the exception of the helpless audience outside the sedan.

A peep into the children's department of the public library on Saturdays will show you just how seriously the youngsters take their reading. They are usually seated at the reading desks, wrapped up in stories of Mother Goose and Hans Brinker, and are quiet as mice.

Although the boating season seems still a few weeks distant, Pa New observed a car being driven up Highland avenue Friday afternoon with a big motorboat attached to a trailer in the rear.

Must Not Sell Beer On Sunday Says Mayor

"At midnight tonight we expect all sales of legal lager beer to cease until Monday morning," said Mayor Charles B. Mayne today. "Officers have been sent out to all sales places registered with the chief of police, informing them that no sales will be permitted on Sunday."

"In all proposed legislation in the various states, sales of beer on Sunday have been barred," said the mayor, "and it seems reasonable to assume that when the Pennsylvania control bill goes into effect it likewise will carry such a prohibition. Because such a bill is not yet passed is no reason why sellers should run wild on Sunday and we will not permit it here in New Castle."

Probe Termination Of Wrestling Bout At Chicago Arena

Charges Heard That Match Between Savoldi And London Was "Fixed Affair"

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 8.—A complete investigation of the circumstances which terminated the Savoldi-London wrestling match at the Chicago stadium last night was conducted today by the Illinois athletic commission.

Charges that the bout may have been "fixed" were to be sifted when Chairman Joe Triner summoned all parties to the office of the commission. Savoldi was given the decision over London, who claimed the championship, at the conclusion of 26 minutes and 20 seconds with London in the grip of a crotch hold.

Ed. White, manager of London, today was loud in his protests that the Greek Adonis' shoulders were not pinned to the mat for the required three seconds. It was revealed, among other things, that Emil Thiry, veteran official, was to have refereed the match, but that at the last minute the assignment was switched to Bob Managoff, former heavyweight wrestler.

It was the first time in four years that London has been beaten, although three opponents had won falls from him in three-fall matches.

Davis Will Ask Hitler To Explain Armament Policy

American Representative Will Ask Hitler Point-Blank Questions On Armament

PRECISE ANSWERS WILL BE SOUGHT

Will Also Confer With Von Hindenburg—Hopes To Learn Terms

By ARNO DOSCH-FLEUROT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, April 8.—Norman T. Davis, chief of the United States "floating embassy", arrived here today to ask Chancellor Adolf Hitler some straight questions about Germany's armament position.

Davis and his party reached Berlin from Paris at 8:37 a. m. They were greeted by foreign office officials and newspaper correspondents, and proceeded to the Hotel Esplanade, where Davis will make his headquarters during his conferences with Hitler and President Von Hindenburg.

Precise Answers. International News Service learned that when Davis confers with the German dictator-chancellor, he will request precise answers to questions on Germany's disarmament policy, since he believes this matter vital to the forthcoming world economic conference.

Davis, it was learned, believes the economic conference can not get under way until a Franco-German armament compromise clears the political atmosphere in Europe.

Although declaring his mission in Berlin is merely informational, the American ambassador-at-large is aware that Hitler's position toward the disarmament problem is the crucial point in his negotiations here, since he is bent on developing a Franco-German agreement.

In the opinion of informed American sources, Davis will ask Hitler whether he is prepared to accept on behalf of Germany a controlled European disarmament with equality for Germany on a defensive basis.

Meets Hindenburg. Berlin, April 8.—Norman H. Davis, American ambassador at large, conferred with President Paul von Hindenburg, octogenarian chief executive of the Reich, for a quarter of an hour today.

They exchanged formal greetings, after which Davis was closeted with Foreign Minister Von Neurath at the foreign office.

P. & L. E. Would Abandon Branch At Ellwood City

P. & L. E. Asks For Right To Abandon Short From Ellwood Junction To Ellwood

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 8.—Because of steady decreases in its passenger business, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad applied to the public service commission today for authority to discontinue carrying passengers on the Ellwood City branch of its line in Lawrence county.

The passenger service between Ellwood City and West Ellwood Junction is operated at an annual loss of approximately $40,000, the applicant stated. Freight service would be continued over the three-mile branch.

If suspension of the passenger service is approved, the railroad will substitute bus service between Ellwood City and its main line at Wampum.

First Imported Beer Destroyed

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 8.—The first beer and wine from Europe since the new congressional law arrived here today—and promptly met the mournful fate of being dumped into a sewer.

Victor Volmar, European representative of the Greyhound bus lines, brought it in on the President Harding, and the seizure and destruction ensued because he could not prove that it contained less than 3.2 per cent alcohol.

WILL ROGERS says:

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 8.—Well, I can't speak with any authority on the condition of the country today, for here it is late in the afternoon and I haven't sampled a single glass of the "Spirit of Rejuvenated America."

I have always claimed America didn't want a drink as bad as they wanted the right to take a drink if they did happen to want one.

And say, did you see what the senate voted for yesterday, that a week's work was to consist of 30 hours, six hours a day for five days? I doubt very much if the people working will agree to an increase in time of work like that. We stick to the old American principle of only working when the boss is looking.

Turner Economy Bill Is Whip Of Republican Bloc

State Organization Brandishing Powerful But Silent Whip On Pinchot

PUTTING GOVERNOR IN TIGHT PLACE

Must Either Accept Turner Bill He Condemns Or Cut Hospital Appropriations

By JOSEPH A. LOFTUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

HARRISBURG, April 8.—Pennsylvania's Republican state organization is brandishing a silent but mighty whip to enforce its legislative program to enactment.

Assemblymen who voted against the Turner bill have already felt the lash of what may prove to be as astute a political maneuver as Harrisburg has seen in many sessions. After 14 weeks the legislature is about ready to dump literal hundreds of bills on Gov. Gifford Pinchot's desk.

Turner Bill Important. These bills are built around No. 22, Rep. Turner's, the main spring of the organization program, virtually the entire financial structure of the commonwealth for the next two years, as now devised by the assembly, is woven about that bill.

In the strategy to force Governor Pinchot's hand on the Turner measure, every state-aided hospital in the organization program, virtually the entire financial structure of the commonwealth for the next two years, as now devised by the assembly, is woven about that bill.

The organization contends that bill No. 22 effects more than $10,000,000 in state economies and by way of proving it has boosted the hospital allotments 29 per cent above the governor's recommendations. When

Big Brewery In Chicago Bombed

Damage Reported At $1,000 To Big Brewery By Plant-Ed Gangster Bomb

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, April 8.—In the midst of Chicago's three-day celebration of legalized beer disgruntled gangsters today bombed the huge Prima Brewing company plant, blasting in a large steel door and shattering scores of windows.

A complete night crew of workmen were busy in the brewery when the explosion occurred at 1:30 a. m. at the service entrance. After inspecting the damage, estimated at $1,000, police said the bomb was intended to explode a large alcohol tank 15 feet from the doorway. The tank, however, was empty when the bomb exploded.

Fifty windows were broken in two adjoining factories.

Authorities were convinced that the attack was part of the gangland offensive to seize control of the legal beer industry by forcing large breweries to deal with retailers through gang "salesmen."

Instead of thirty mills working nine turns as has been the case for some time, the thirty mills will operate 15 turns which will put the mill at about 70 percent capacity.

No new men will be taken on for the increased operations, but it will mean considerable more work for the men who are already employed and who have been working part time.

Motorcycle Officer Injured In Crash

Was Removed To Jameson Memorial Hospital For Treatment After Accident

Motorcycle Officer Cecil Suber of the city police force, is in the Jameson Memorial hospital suffering from an injury on the side of the head sustained last night at North Mill and North streets when his motorcycle crashed into the machine of Robert C. Schein of Axalon, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Officer Suber was in a dazed condition due to the injury to his head, when removed to the hospital and suffered minor scratches and bruises. At the hospital today, it was stated that he was resting easy and was getting along as well as could be expected.

According to the report made by Mr. Scheib, he was enroute south on North Mill street following a street car. The street car stopped at North street to discharge some passengers. He had stopped directly in the rear of the street car.

As the street car pulled out, Mr. Scheib claims he followed the street car, keeping in the center of the street to North street intersection and then started to make a left hand turn into North street, which as far as he could see was clear.

He was making the turn when he saw Motorcycle Officer Suber coming toward him from the side of the street car going south, a short distance south of North street. The collision followed, the officer was injured and the motorcycle and automobile were damaged. The officer was taken to a physician and then to the hospital.

Hire 150 Workers For Maintenance Jobs In District

State Employment Branch Puts New Policy In Effect; See New Work

To 150 unemployed men of New Castle and Lawrence county notification has been given this week that street or road maintenance jobs awaited them, it was announced today by R. L. Meermans, superintendent of the state's cooperative employment office at the Y. M. C. A. City men were chosen at the Y office while workmen for the rural maintenance projects were contacted by telephone. Mr. Meermans said. No men were hired for new roadwork jobs.

Under the new job-distributing policy which Superintendent H. W. Lightner of state highway department invoked this week, unemployed residents of townships are assigned to the rural maintenance work. The same "local hiring" policy applies to maintenance projects in the city.

An invitation today was issued to registered men holding tickets under 250 to report to the Y on Monday for interviews for additional street repair work here.

In the East Washington street section the repair work will commence next week while other streets forming the city's state highway route system will be given attention shortly afterward. Almost a month's street repair job looms here.

Mr. Meermans said that 30 of the 150 hired men will work on the street jobs here with the remainder assigned to maintenance work along township roads.

Commencement of new rural work hinges upon the weather of the coming week.

PINCHOT SEEKS AID OF CLERGY OF STATE

Seeking To Force Action On Relief

Addresses Letters To 6,000

Ministers Showing Critical Situation

SEEKS SUPPORT ON BEER CONTROL

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 8.—Apparently disgusted by the futility of his appeal to legislators for immediate action on relief, Gov. Gifford Pinchot today turned to the clergy of Pennsylvania for aid.

In a letter to 6,000 ministers, he asked their support and predicted 2,000,000 Pennsylvanians will begin to starve or riot unless immediate action is forthcoming at once.

"Four courses are now to the General Assembly," the governor wrote. "It can accept the plans I have outlined so often to provide $20,000,000 for relief without any new taxes. It can draw up a better or equally good plan. It can pass a fake relief measure, stealing money from other vital state functions and throwing it away to the inefficient poor boards. Or it can continue to do nothing.

"Either of the last two courses means disaster."

The governor also solicited the ministers' support for the adoption of a beer control bill embodying his recommendations. "The saloon must not return, judges must not be mixed up in the beer business," and politics must be kept out of beer," he asserted.

crack up come after she was inevitably plunging downward?

Lieut. Comdr. Wiley, discussing the testimony of the enlisted men, has found difficulty in fixing the exact time of the various experiences of the trio of survivors.

Withhold Opinion.
The congressional investigators, for the most part, withheld an opinion on the cause of the crash pending further inquiry. Rep. Boland (D) of Pennsylvania, who predicted the Akron would never be right after she fell while being taken out of her hangar last year, said the testimony confirmed his opinion.

"I said then I thought the ship would be permanently out of alignment, and I still think so although she flew 25,000 miles after that accident."

"It appears that she was caught in storm cross currents, and being out of alignment, she went out of control. She began cracking up on the way down. The breaking up appears to have started after she was headed for the water."

Continue Hunt for Survivors.
ABOARD U. S. S. PORTLAND, April 8.—True to the traditions of the navy, 30 searching ships continued today for possible survivors.

The ships maneuvered through the seas near the spot where the ill-fated queen of the air plunged to destruction from a lightning-slasher sky, while look-outs kept grimly alert for signs of wreckage of the giant dirigible, which went down with a loss of 73 lives.

Captain Herbert Fairfax Leary of the Portland, who is in full charge of the search, scanned the waters under a leaden sky with anxious eyes from the bridge, expressed belief the wreck of the Akron is still near the point at which it fell.

"A study of wind and sea currents and the points at which debris already has been picked up has convinced me the Akron will be found within a mapped area of 25 miles by 20 miles," he declared.

This area, he indicated, will be the base of operations for the entire searching fleet, which will comb the 500 square miles expanse of water with grappling irons and sweeps.

Officers in charge of the search said they expect bodies of the victims to float to the surface today, and expressed the opinion that discovery of these bodies will greatly aid in the search for the hulk of the Akron, since it will enable them to narrow down the area of operations, with a good chance that the wreckage can be located.

Body is Recovered.
ABOARD U. S. S. PORTLAND, April 8.—The body of Lt. Col. A. F. Masury, reserve officer in the United States ordnance corps and guest officer on board the dirigible Akron, was recovered today by the tanker S. S. John D. Archibald near the scene of the disaster.

the whole program is piled on his desk, then he will have the choice of accepting the Turner bill, which he has condemned, or forcing a cut in the hospital appropriations.

"On the Spot."
This latter alternative would be decided expedient for him. His veto, in fact, would wreck the entire assembly program and result in revisions and legislative work that would keep the assembly in session many more weeks or result in an extraordinary session. Politically he may be put "on the spot" within two weeks.

While Governor Pinchot strives to line up the Democrats on the administration side, the organization is quietly putting its finger on them and upon recalcitrant Republicans, as well.

The Turner measure, now before the senate was first defeated in the house with 56 of the 65 Democrats voting against it. "New deals" were made and the bill was reconsidered and finally passed with one vote to spare. If and when the senate passes it, the bill must come back for house concurrence.

Four May Close.
Two days after No. 22 went thru the lower branch, the general appropriations bill emerged from committee and it was discovered that the Shamokin and Coalale state hospitals and four state teachers' colleges had been cut off without a cent.

These institutions, threatened with having their doors closed and the legislative facts which may be significantly associated with them are these:

Clarion college, Clarion county, represented by Rep. Leslie R. Himes, Democrat, who voted against the Turner bill.

West Chester, Chester county, represented by Rep. Leslie R. Himes, Democrat, who voted against the Turner bill.

St. Meredit and White, all of whom voted against the Turner bill.

Many Negative Votes.
California, located in a Washington county district represented by two Democrats, Walter Carson and William Lane, both of whom voted against the Turner bill.

East Stroudsburg, Monroe county, represented by Chester H. Rhodes, Democrat, who voted against the Turner bill.

Shamokin hospital, located in a Northumberland county district represented by Ollie J. Powell, Republican, and John F. Shank, Democrat, both of whom voted against the Turner bill.

In the senate, where votes will be needed, Northumberland county is represented by a Democrat, Charles E. Miller.

Coalale hospital, located in Schuylkill county where four of the five representatives voted against the Turner bill.

trade barriers through international cooperation.

State department experts are working feverishly on the program now. It has not yet taken shape but it is hoped to have the nucleus of it ready when President Ramsay MacDonald of Great Britain arrives.

President Roosevelt also hopes to obtain from congress in the near future the trade bargaining power to enable him to conclude agreements on his own authority. Experts are working on the draft of the resolution asking congress for this authority.

Congress Has Power
Both the White House and State Department deny reports that it has been decided to include a recommendation for a flat ten per cent horizontal reduction in traffic.

On the contrary, the president is said to be desirous of avoiding a percentage limitation. He prefers to let congress have the power to veto his agreements with thirty or sixty days after they are concluded. During this time, congress could decide whether or not he had made excessive reductions. If congress failed to act within the veto period, the agreements would become effective automatically.

John Franchetti, of 401 Mahoning avenue, reported to the police Friday evening that he was enroute east on Long avenue, just east of the intersection of South Mill street and Long avenue, as a couple of women started to cross Long avenue from the south side to the north side of the street.

According to Mr. Franchetti, he attempted to avoid the women, but Mrs. Jacob Kulkun of 428 Boyles avenue, walked into the side of his car and was injured. She was removed to the New Castle hospital in the care of Mike Fazzone, where X-Ray pictures have been taken for the purpose of determining the full extent of her injuries.

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

THAT CAT!
That cat of ours is getting to be practically worthless.
All he does is eat and sleep these days. He doesn't even run around the neighborhood.
He goes out and sleeps in the sun or prowls in the shadows of the dark night. He jumps up the vine outside the dining room window and mauls on the window sill until we let him in.
Then he makes a bee-line for his dish under the kitchen stove, and if there's any food in it he eats it. But if there isn't, he gives us dirty looks and makes a few mean cat remarks about people that don't know how to take care of a cat.
If that fails, he stalks into the living room and flops in front of the fireplace, drawing closer and closer as the fire dies down, until after a while he's virtually sleeping in the ashes.

He thinks he owns the house, too. If you push him gently out of the way he complains in low mutters. He doesn't play with the cat next door any more. He refuses to chase things you tie on the end of strings for his amusement; he has put aside these childish things and sneers at our efforts to amuse him. He's grown up, he says, and we haven't.
That's the trouble with human beings, we heard him saying to another cat the other day. They never grow up. Sometimes you think they're mature, but they never are. They're always slipping back into infantilism, just when you've made up your mind that they are rid of all that nonsense.
Now, a cat's different, he went on to say. When he's a kitten he's fond of nonsense. He plays with bits of fluff and runs up curtains and has a delicious time, exercising his young muscles. But when he's grown up, he knows better. He realizes there's little to do in life but eat and sleep and wash yourself with your tongue and save your energy.

THOUGHTFULNESS

It may be necessary for some of your relatives to live in your home. They would be supporting themselves if such a thing were possible. If they had any other place to go they would not have asked to join your family circle.
It is unkind to make remarks to emphasize such a situation. Because these persons do not belong to your family should not make any difference in your treatment of them.
Remember that you are in greater luck if you have not had to ask aid. The world is full of people and one or another before the end of life must ask favors of someone, so be gentle and generous as you can.
The fact that you have been able to keep your own head above water should make you so thankful that you would esteem it a privilege to share with others as circumstances suggest.
Make it as easy and comfortable as you can for those who use your home as a place to sleep and eat. And the person seeking such help should try in every way not to disturb the routine of your home life or its privacy.
A little more thoughtfulness on both sides is desirable.

EVENINGS AT HOME

I had forgotten that you could crochet.
Or liked to hear a story read aloud.
So long it seems we've always gone away.
To mingle somewhere with a babbling crowd.
When first we married and we used to rent.
That upper flat on Fourteenth Avenue.
We often sat together, quite content.
The supper dishes off I dried for you.
Do you remember how I tinkered then.
With saw and hammer o'er some pantry shelf.
To save the cost of hiring expert men.
And said "My dear I'll do that work myself."
The meal tonight was good! I've always said.
And now repeat it, old and ever true.
Although on this world's dainties I have fed.
No one can make an apple pie like you.
We've learned this lesson to our souls' delight.
For happiness we have no need to roam.
There are some joys the changing times can't blight.
And we can find contentment here at home.

The newspaper interview, as it is practiced today, originated about the time of the outbreak of the Civil war. James Gordon Bennett is credited with being its author.

Following the raid on Harpers Ferry, the New York "Herald" sent a reporter to interview Gerritt Smith, one of the men implicated with John Brown in the raid. Smith's talk with the reporter was published in full in the "Herald". The story was widely read and quoted. Roosevelt Securities Curb Appraised As Needed Force

Message And Measure Received With Comment On Restoration Of Confidence And Creation Of Better Knowledge Of Business Ratings

Benefits are expected by the public from the legislation asked by President Roosevelt for the purpose of regulating sale of securities in interstate commerce. His message and bill open a broad field for discussion, including attention to present State laws on the subject, the increase of confidence in securities, and even the possibility of more business in corporate issues. Emphasis is placed on the President's thought that the old rule, "Let the buyer beware," should be extended by requiring that the seller have equal responsibility. Publicity about business companies involved would be required, under supervision of the Federal Trade Commission.

"There can be no honest objection," declares the WASHINGTON EVENING STAR, "to such a safeguard against fraud." The Star advises that the principle involved "should be declared as the basis of any business for which the capital of the people is required for investment." The ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC sees the application of "an obligatory Golden Rule," while the thought that the buyer must still exercise prudence is voiced by the NEW CASTLE NEWS and the GOSHEN NEWS-TIME. The WALL STREET JOURNAL calls the program "wholesome in intent, whatever imperfections of drafting may be corrected," and the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL looks to "stopping of the practice of selling securities as a pig in a poke."

The limitation to interstate commerce is described by the LOS ANGELES TIMES as "more apparent than real, since any securities will normally be sold in interstate commerce, and if any are not so offered, they will be subject to suspicion." On another phase of the situation, the UNIONTOWN HERALD thinks that "care will have to be taken that publicity is not misinterpreted as a Federal guaranty of validity." The JERSEY CITY JOURNAL concludes: "Honest banks, honest corporations, honest brokers, will not fear the new law. Crooks and the huckster of the securities responsible for the Administration to protect the people of the country, and the great body of honest and law-abiding bank officials from the disastrous consequences and distrust inevitable in the misconduct of the few." The restraint to be brought to bear on unethical practices is emphasized by the DANBURY NEWS-TIME, the ASBURY PARK EVENING PRESS, the YOUNGS TOWN VINDICATOR and the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS.

"The insistence upon the truth about securities is the new note in the Roosevelt proposal," says the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, while the NEWARK EVENING NEWS states that it "holds the promoter and the huckster of the securities responsible financially and otherwise for the fidelity of the description given to the facts." The INDIANAPOLIS NEWS contends: "Ambiguous if not actually misleading annual corporate reports, meaningless to anyone but an expert, should be replaced by a set form. The net effect on the conduct of corporations should be welcomed by all responsible business leaders." The TOLEDO BLADE quotes from a prediction made by the President in California last fall that such legislation "would put the great American promoter out of business."

"There may be no gold in the mine," comments the NEW YORK SUN, "but the promoter of the mining stock must satisfy the government that he has reason to believe that there is, and that his venture is something better than the exploitation of easy marks." The ROCHESTER TIMES-UNION points out that "there is a wide difference between selling fraudulent securities and speculative ones," and that "what the proposed laws would do is to eliminate the fraud as far as possible." That paper finds it necessary that "the investor should be assured that when new issues are made, the information given is reliable." The TOPEKA DAILY CAPITAL concludes that "if the matter is handled constructively, the new prosperity, when it comes, will be more solidly grounded than in the past."

A protest comes from the BALTIMORE SUN against "letting a wave of enthusiasm for a general idea of concern about details which may be extremely important in attaining the end sought." Picking out one section of the bill, The Sun declares: "By allowing the Federal Trade Commission to blacklist securities of its registration by reference to whether or not the issuing corporation is conducted on 'sound principles' the security bill would give that agency a sweeping control over the conduct of business. That such a tremendous grant of power is essential to what has been consistently regarded as the prime purpose of the bill—that of enforcing 'pitiless publicity' about security issues—does not seem at all clear. Nor does it seem clear from the statements of the sponsors of the bill that they intend to set up a broad dictatorship over the conduct of corporate enterprise. But, as the act is drafted, it include power to destroy corporations which the commission holds are not conducted on 'sound principles,' it certainly seems to lay the foundations for such a dictatorship."

Encouragement for future investments is seen in the new system by the PORTLAND OREGON JOURNAL and the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS. In its Federal feature the latter paper believes it will eliminate "competition between States in the careless authorization of corporations and stock issues for the sake of the free. The FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM asserts that "the public should be privileged to deal unafraid and without danger with those engaging in the business of banking and other agencies handling the money of the depositing and investing public." The ROANOKE WORLD NEWS concludes, "The restoration of buyers' confidence is necessary if we are to re-establish thrift in America."

"There are provisions in the bill," according to the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "which are likely to suggest, if not actually develop, increasing Federal control over corporations, and possibly a general plan of Federal charters for corporations in interstate business." Commendation for State laws is given by the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, with recognition that the Federal law "is a natural extension of the whole spirit of complete financial publicity for which the country in recent years has been notable."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

JUST TOO BAD
A railway director rebuked a ticket collector who allowed him to go through the gate without producing his pass.

"No matter if you do know who I am," he said, in reply to the collector's excuse. "I am entitled to ride free only when I am traveling with that pass. You don't know whether I have it or not."

The collector, nettled into action, demanded to see the pass.

"That's right," exclaimed the director, "Here—why—well, I declare: I must have left it at my office."

"Then you'll have to pay your fare," responded the collector grimly.

NOW, DO YOU KNOW?

The parents of a solemn little boy were perturbed at his morbid outlook on life. They were sending him off by train to relatives, and told him to write his name and address on a card, and put it into his pocket.
The boy did so, beginning: "In case of accident, this was Johnny Smith."

Tax Justice League Meets

Reports Are Given Of Meeting Of State Body Held In Harrisburg In March

CONTINUE DEMAND FOR TAX RELIEF

Reports from the recent meeting of the Tax Justice League of Pennsylvania, held at Harrisburg, were given by N. G. McClelland and President J. W. Pattison of the Lawrence County Tax Justice League at a meeting held in the court house last evening. Talks were also given by James K. Price of Wayne township and C. G. Leslie of Union township.

Mr. K. Price urged the members to continue their endeavors to form public opinion on tax economy. He felt that considerable money could be saved, not only to the state, but to the township, if the school term for the year was shortened one month, citing the fact that when he was a young man, rural schools were in session only four or five months in the winter time.

Mr. McClelland, in his review of the Harrisburg meeting, stated that the major points which the state league has adopted and is working for, is the adoption of a four mill tax on real estate for school purposes, abolition of the road tax, elimination of unnecessary offices, and reductions, as drastic as 33-1-3 per cent in some cases, in all salaries.

The meeting at Harrisburg, on March 28, was addressed by Governor Pinchot, Lieut. Governor Shannon, Speaker Talbot and several others.

President J. W. Pattison also gave remarks on the state meeting and a resume of the activities of the Lawrence County Tax Justice League.

He cited the fact that the first tax organization was formed in the county 15 months ago, since which time 15 local organizations have been formed and affiliated in the movement. Ten months ago a county organization was formed from these different units, and six months ago they affiliated with the state organization, in which 37 counties are joined.

Mr. Pattison made no claims that the Tax Justice league was entirely responsible for improvements in the tax situation in the county, but felt they were instrumental in a large way in securing a voluntary reduction of 12 1/2 per cent in the new Castle; reductions of salaries for city employees and officials; reductions in school costs in the county districts; reductions in township road costs of from 25 to 50 per cent, and reduction in the general appropriation for the state of 51 millions over 1931-32.

Bills in Legislature.
The state organization has sponsored bills known as house bill No. 550, providing for a flat income tax of two per cent for school purposes, thereby relieving real estate. This bill also provides for a maximum levy of four mills on real estate, proceeds from which can be used only for the retiring and paying of interest on bonded indebtedness.

The organization proposes through house bill No. 1238 to devote the income paid into the highway fund, to the maintenance of the highways of the state and the principal streets and thoroughfares of the townships and boroughs, so that the users of these highways, streets and thoroughfares would pay for their construction and maintenance.

Mr. Price spoke on school costs, and showed what the state had done to relieve the tax burden on real estate in previous depressions. He pointed out that advanced education in the rural districts has been a big factor in increasing costs, stating that in 1880 only one in a thousand had a high school education. In 1910 this had jumped to one in 120 and in 1930 to one in 36.

He felt that industry, which benefits by the education of our children, should bear a bigger share in the cost of it.

R. G. Leslie of Union township gave an analysis of state income and expenses, at the conclusion of which he offered the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:

Whereas: Real estate now bears a very heavy tax burden, and

Whereas: Drastic curtailments have already been made in the operation of the schools, and

Whereas: Any decrease in the state appropriations to schools must be made up by tax on real estate,

Therefore be it resolved: That the Lawrence County Tax Justice League ask our representative and senator in the general assembly to do everything they can to maintain the appropriation to the schools at the same level as for the last biennium and if possible to increase it above that amount.

Jack Fee of the first ward offered a resolution that all interest rates on bonds, mortgages, etc., be reduced to three per cent, which was adopted with the suggestion that the organization work toward a reduction in interest rates on future transactions of this nature.

Christian Endeavor Names New Officers

Plans Are Completed For Spring Rally In Christian Church On April 28

The Lawrence County Christian Endeavor Union nominated new officers at the regular monthly meeting held in the Reformed Presbyterian church Thursday evening, and final action will be taken upon the nominees at the Spring Rally, which will be held April 28, in the First Christian church.

The devotion was led by Mary Spence and Rev. Rees T. Williams offered the prayer.

Those nominated to carry on the work during the next year were president, Miss Theodore Pollock, Plainville; vice president, Gil Brown of the Central Presbyterian church; second vice, Margaret Phillips, Calvary Presbyterian church; corresponding secretary, Sally Swisher, Central Presbyterian church; recording secretary, Lloyd Bailey, Hopewell Presbyterian church; assistant secretary, Mrs. Sidney Smith, First Christian church; treasurer, Leyshon Coughlin, First Congregational church.

At the close of the meeting Miss Blanche Bright, who has been actively engaged in the Christian Endeavor work for thirty three years, was presented with a New Testament in honor of her long years of faithful service. Miss Pollock made the presentation speech.

The retiring president, Harry Wilson was presented with a gift of appreciation by the union, with Miss Geraldine Frye making the presentation.

After the business meeting the seventy five persons present took part in a social time, under the direction of Miss Sally Swisher, Alice Grimes and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith.

Two of the retiring officers have been advanced to state Christian Endeavor work. Mr. Wilson is first vice president of Western Pennsylvania, and Miss Geraldine Frye to secretary of the Western Pennsylvania district.

The churches represented at the meeting were the Central Presbyterian; the First Presbyterian; the First Congregational; the Calvary Presbyterian; Mt. Hermon Presbyterian; Harlanburg Presbyterian; Neshaunock Presbyterian; Plainville Presbyterian and the host church.

GOATS IN PARK
Are Problem To Officer On Beat

Goats, Not Beer Celebrators, Keep Officer Reynolds On Jump

Officer Frank Reynolds was kept mighty busy in seventh ward on the night of beer's return to grace—but his activity was caused by goats, not whoopee makers!

It seems that Joe Russo of the South Liberty street district owns a herd of goats. It also seems that these goats are suffering from the illusion that no grass has quite the appealing flavor of that in the North Liberty street park. Yesterday they made a pilgrimage to the park for dinner.

"They seem to think I want to play tag with them," Officer Reynolds complained to the sympathetic scribe.

TOURNAMENT ENDING

GIRL SCOUTS MEET
Mahoningtown Girl Scouts met Friday afternoon in the Mahoning school portable and formed four permanent patrols. Two of the patrol leaders were provided with names, while the others will choose theirs at the next meeting. Scout laws were reviewed, games played and new songs learned.

It is predicted that a number of the girls will be ready to take their tenderfoot tests late this month.

The next meeting will be at the same place Thursday afternoon instead of Friday, next week.

BOY SCOUT HIKE
The weather man favored Troop 4 of Mahoningtown Boy Scouts this morning, and gave them a fine, crisp air and clear skies for a through-the-woods hike.

A full troop turned out for the event, and it proved to be keenly enjoyed from the first to the last step. The hikers, numbering around 30, took Horace Greeley's advice after a fashion and "went west."

MILL GETS ORDER RECALLS 100 EMPLOYEES
BEAVER, Pa., April 8.—One hundred employees of the Colonial Steel company, Colona, were recalled to work today with the placing in operation of three mills. It was announced by C. L. Garbert, an official of the company. The resumption of work, it was said, came with one of the largest orders received in many months. No new men will be employed.

A check is being maintained by the police department on the beer selling places in the city. It was stated today by Chief of Police John F. Haven. This is for the purpose of seeing that the sales of beer are in accordance with the regulations laid down by Mayor Charles B. Mayne, for the period during which there is no state legislation controlling and regulating the sale of beer.

Registration of those desiring to sell beer continues but the force of the enthusiasm with which great numbers registered for a day or two, now seems to be spent and the registrations are getting fewer in number. The total number of registrants up until this morning was 145.

Those registering Friday afternoon were as follows: Sol Wolfe, 3 West Long avenue; Cloverleaf Dairy, 148 East Long avenue; Harry Lambrosa, 222 South Jefferson street; A. F. Reibers won a final positionist by defeating St. Mary's Reserves Thursday night, 39 to 26, and Troop F downed St. Andrews the same night by a score of 26 to 24.

The Reibers is composed of 1932 There are two players who played this year in the W. P. I. A. L. They are Teplica, forward, and Reiber, guard.

Troop F is composed mostly of Sacred Hearts, which showed a lot of class in the Church League. Gennock, Viggiano, Grommes, Cooper, Mancine, Neimi and Gallagher make up the team. Teplica, J. and N. Uram, Lasky, Kominic and Kelly make up the Reibers.

The tournament started Tuesday night. Mahoning Presbyterian defeated Mt. Jackson Scholastics, 28 to 26; St. Andrews won from Bessemer, 44 to 19, and Reibers got away with the Canaries, 60 to 14, and New Wilmington Eckles vanquished Ellwood City Smiths, 31 to 27.

Coach Amos Holds Spring Training For Grover Squad

Art Alexander, George Binder And Andy Beres, New Castle Boys Among Regulars

GROVE CITY, April 8.—Spring football practice was inaugurated at Grove City college this week, for the first time in many years. Coach Bill Amos has a squad of 25 candidates at work and plans three sessions each week during April.

The gridgers work out in the college gymnasium, using the basketball court, and wearing soft-soled shoes. Drills are held in the evening between 7 and 9 o'clock, which is the only time available due to the heavy intramural sports program.

Coach Amos is limiting workouts to formations and shifts, drilling his charges on the intricacies of the single-wing back style, and building up deception and rhythm. Amos introduced this offensive in Grove City last fall, his first year in Grove City, and hopes to perfect the style of play with intensive practice this spring.

Many experienced athletes reported for the spring drills. The list of backs include Alexander, Smith, Gross and Harry Rosequist, the latter a star tackle in '31, who may be converted into a fullback. Veteran linemen out for practice are Beres, Tomko and Soich, ends; Plance and McCoy, tackles; Binder and Caulfield, guards, and Bache, center.

Lockport, N. Y. Bowler Leads

Al Brandt, Bangs Out Tenspins For Three Game Total Of 771, Is Close To Record

COMPETITION IS QUITE KEEN

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., April 8.—Last year's champions in the five-man event of the American Bowling Congress today were relegated to the class of ex-champions.

The Sohio Ethyls of Dayton, who, rolling as the Jefferson Clotmiers at Detroit in 1932 banged out the winning score of 3108 in the quintet division, were able to get to the pins for a total of only 2796 last night. The score fell away short of even the tail-end berth in the "Big Ten" standings.

The honors of yesterday's maple blasting went instead to a Lockport, N. Y. kegler, Al Brandt, known as "The Little Giant of Lockport," who staged a sensational strike spree and came within three pins of trampling the all-time high three-game series in A. B. C. competition.

Brandt holds lead Rolling in the doubles event with Eddie Oats as his partner, Brandt knocked the pins every-which-way for a total of 771 points. The all-time three-game series record is 774, chalked up by Larry Shotwell of Covington, Ky., in the 1930 Congress at Cleveland.

While Brandt was pounding out his spectacular score of 771, his partner, Oats, was able to get to the pins for a total of only 582. Their combined total, however, was 1353, which landed them in third place of the doubles division.

Brandt continued to wallop the set-ups in his singles assault, finishing with a score of 623, which, added to his 771 in the doubles and 630 in the team event, gave him a grand nine-game total of 2024 and second place in the all-events standings.

Zunker Ahead The all-events division is headed by Gil Zunker of Milwaukee, who topped the pins for 2060 points, a new all-time record, last Tuesday. Brandt's score was better, however, than the former all-time record held by Billy Knox of Philadelphia, with 2019.

The high spot of last night's team event was the game of the Congressmen Auf Der Heide, West New York, N. J., quintet, who smashed into third place of the Big Ten standings with a total of 2992. One of the members of the New Jersey outfit was Mike Shingiro, winner of the singles championship for the United States in the international tournament at Stockholm, Sweden four years ago.

One other change was marked up in the Big Ten standings yesterday. D. Robbins and N. Burton of Dallas, Texas, whiffed the pins for a total of 1211 which landed them in fifth place of the doubles event.

Forty-seven men and boys were present and it was decided not to meet next Friday.

Savoldi Beats Jim Londos In Chicago Arena

Former Notre Dame Grid Star Defeats Champion With Heel Hold

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, April 8.—It is always news when a man bites a dog, because most of the time it is the dog that bites the man, and so by the same token it was news when jumping Joe Savoldi threw Jim Londos for the championship of the Ed White wrestling enterprises Inc. last night at the Chicago stadium.

To say that some 7,000 customers were astounded at the amazing turn of events is putting it mildly when you consider the profound astonishment of the "strawberry pie" man when he hauled himself from the floor to reformer Bob Managoff hold aloft the hand of the one-time Notre Dame football star. If Mr. Londos was not surprised then he is indeed a thespian who should have been recognized by the theatre guild long before this.

Londos Surprised For 26 minutes the gladiator rolled and grunted in a manner that was in strict keeping with the es-cution of the game. Then of a sudden jumping Joe seized Londos by the heels and, clamping a crotch hold on the Adonis man, stood him on his shoulders.

"The referee told me to let go because I was tangled in the ropes," said Londos in his dressing room when it was over. "I don't know yet what happened."

No doubt Londos will call upon Mr. Ed White at the earliest opportunity to find out what happened.

And no doubt that Adonis man will be told that Savoldi is a fine boy with an admirable physique and that a return match will be a very fine thing, especially beneficial to the wallets of the promoters, etc.

New Boxing Bill Passed By Solons In New York State

Death Of Boxing Will Be Sounded In New York State If Lehman Signs Bill

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, April 8.—Leaders in the world of sport today saw the end of the fight game in this state if the O'Brien bill, passed by the legislature yesterday, is signed by the governor.

Under the terms of the bill, prize-fighters would have to pay $100 instead of $5, and wrestlers $50 instead of $5, for a license, and in this little joker was foreseen the end of the fight game.

Majority opinion was well summed up by Jimmy Johnston, match-maker for Madison Square Garden, who said: "The O'Brien bill will kill boxing because it will virtually wipe out the Walker law under which boxing now operates."

"It will abolish the small clubs which the Walker law intended to foster because the small clubs will not be able to find any cards. The boxers will not be available because they cannot pay such a heavy license fee and without the preliminary boy how can we build up attractions and without attractions how can the small clubs exist?"

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Albert Brandt, 118 pounds, Lockport, N. Y., and his partner, Eddie Gates, same city, took third place in the doubles event of the A. B. C. at Columbus yesterday with 1,353 pins. Brandt's total was 771, only three less than the A. B. C. individual record. Gates' total was 582. Brandt then went on to pile up the second highest all-events total ever recorded in an A. B. C. meet. He had 2,024 which a week ago would have set a new all-time record. Last Monday Gill Zunker, Milwaukee, established a new mark of 2,060.

Dr. William Serritella and Maurice McCarthy, Chicago, dethroned Angelo Trullio and Maynard Laswell, New York team, as national amateur handball doubles champions yesterday in the semi-finals, 21-17, 21-21. The winners will meet Endzwick and Goudreau of Cleveland in the finals tonight.

William Cicero, quarterback, was elected captain of the Grove City high school football team for the coming season at a dinner of lettermen.

George Lott won from Lester Stoeven to enter the finals of the Houston tennis tourney, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2.

Jewel Ens, former manager of the Pirates, has been signed by the Reds as coach.

Art Shires has quit the Braves. Unable to cope with Baxter Jordan for a regular berth at first base, he refused to accept a reduced salary and will probably land with a minor league team.

Weather Bad For Spring Football

Weather Conditions Of Past Week Have Been Unfavorable For New Castle High

New Castle High School football team has ended one week of spring grid training and the weather has been anything but good. Coach Phil Bridenbaugh has been very lenient this week. In event of better weather next week the team will get down to the serious business of football.

The exact date of the game with Canton McKinley High has not been set as yet by Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner. Gardner is also trying to arrange a second spring game for Taggart Field.

No Positions Cinched Nothing definite can be told as yet from the fine looking group of candidates that reported this year. There are several new men out for the team who will give the varsity regulars of last year plenty of opposition.

Captain Walter Kominic will possibly play the fullback job again this year, with Nickum and Lane at the halfback posts unless they are supplanted by better looking recruits. The task of getting a quarterback is a worry for Bridenbaugh, with Archie Ridley believed to have the inside track and Tommy Jones giving him a tough battle. The line looks good this year with several new men reporting, and with the Sheloers brothers, Howley, Raskowski and Palkovitch just about certain to land varsity spots.

Many Drastic Reductions In Veterans Act

Expect Statutory Awards Will Be Discontinued Under New Ruling

NEW PAYMENTS WILL NOT BE RETROACTIVE

While the new regulations to be issued by the president in regard to pensions for veterans, and other legislation pertaining to the veterans' administration are not yet available, changes which are expected to be made have been compiled by the war service branch of the American Red Cross.

These are in addition to the previous general rulings which have been made public following the signing of the new bill by the president.

Area boards of appeals are abolished, and all appeal cases have been sent back to the regional offices to be reviewed under the new law.

Emergency officers' retirement cases have been called into the central office for review. Direct, not presumptive, service connection is now required, also entrance into service prior to November 11, 1918.

Burial allowance will not be over $107, including transportation, and may be reduced to $75, this payable only in case the veteran's assets are not in excess of $75.

No Statutory Awards. Unless further provided, it is expected that all statutory awards, such as the $50 for arrested tuberculosis, $25 additional for loss of foot, hand, etc., are discontinued, as well as nurse attendant allowance, per diem allowance and presumptive service connection.

There will be no retroactive payments in new claims, no more revised term insurance, no new term insurance suits can be filed and there will be no new automatic insurance awards.

As soon as the complete text of the president's regulations is released, the various chapter offices will be immediately informed.

Says C. I. Liebendorfer Alive In California

Cadmus I. Liebendorfer is not dead. He is alive and engaged in the real estate business in Bakersfield, California, according to Mrs. J. W. Cameron, of 1004 Beckford street. Mrs. Cameron receives letters from him at various times, the last letter from him being received about last Christmas.

Mrs. Cameron's interest in the matter was aroused when a letter from W. George Hunter was published in The News concerning the early meeting he had with Mr. Liebendorfer in Goldfield, Nevada in 1904. In his letter Mr. Hunter stated that he knew nothing about Mr. Liebendorfer's whereabouts at the present time.

The letter of Mr. Hunter came about over a petition that was presented to the Lawrence county courts asking that Mr. Liebendorfer be declared dead.

"The last time Mr. Liebendorfer was in New Castle was when my uncle Sylvester Parks was brought back to be buried," said Mrs. Cameron. Both Mr. Liebendorfer and my uncle had gone west and my aunt, Mr. Park's wife and Mrs. Liebendorfer were the first white women in Goldfield. Mr. Parks at one time conducted a restaurant on Moravia street, as Mr. Hunter said, continued Mrs. Cameron, but his name was not. "Lafie, it was Sylvester."

"When my uncle died in Nevada," said Mrs. Cameron, "my aunt wired to Mr. Liebendorfer who had then gone to Bakersfield, California. He immediately went from Bakersfield to a town near Goldfield where my aunt and uncle had been living. Conditions were rather primitive and the coffin they were able to get in Goldfield was not suitable for transcontinental shipment. The body was taken to Las Vegas where a copper casket was made for it."

Accompanied by Mr. Liebendorfer, my aunt brought her husband's body back to New Castle where it was buried. This I believe was either in 1911 or 1912, as my grandson who is now 22 was very small at the time. After the funeral, Mr. Liebendorfer went back to Bakersfield, California where he still resides and does business. He is now over seventy years of age."

"When he resided in Lawrence County, Cadmus I. Liebendorfer lived in the southern end of the county, either near Wurttemberg or Wampum," said Mrs. Cameron. He is the man concerning whom the petition has been presented. I am very sure," said Mrs. Cameron, "unless he has died since I last heard from him, last December, he is very much alive."

The News today checked with the Greenwood Cemetery in an effort to get the date of the burial of Sylvester Park. The cemetery records show that Mr. Park was buried there on January 17, 1912 and at the time of his burial he was 65 years of age. This corroborates the statements of Mrs. Cameron insofar as Mr. Park is concerned.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Sixteen years ago a lot of young men were getting ready to go into an army camp for the purpose of learning what war meant. Another army is about to be mobilized, this one for tree planting, and instead of learning the meanings of such terms as squads right, eschelon, left oblique, and the like, this new army will learn how to plant trees, how to care for forests and how to know a pin oak from a yellow pine.

If you're interested, the government is borrowing the idea adopted at the Pymatuning Dam for the housing and care of the new forestry soldiers, according to A. W. Motley, of the State Department of Labor and Industry.

The Pymatuning turned out to be more than just the building of a dam. It resulted in one of the best pieces of governmental work ever attempted in the United States and because of the success of the housing and feeding plan, is now used as a model for other states and will probably be copied by the government.

The forestry army, according to Mr. Motley will be composed of single young men, who have dependents and the pay will be one dollar per day, plus food and quarters. But the men won't get all of the thirty dollars. Twenty of it will have to be sent home to the dependents and ten of it will be kept by the men themselves to buy things they need.

Once recruited, the man may be sent to a Pennsylvania forest or he may be assigned to some other state, New York or West Virginia for example. The camps will be under military rule and discipline will be enforced. For a lad who wants to work, it will be an opportunity to build up health and vigor out in the woods.

An odd thing happened in the South Side a few days ago when the weather got suddenly warm, something that hadn't been explained. As a means of calling attention to the articles inside, a broad strip of black paint was run across the large plate glass windows of the Fisher stores.

A day or so after the paint was applied, the sun came out with a vim and then without any warning the glass in both large windows shattered across the area where the black paint was spread. Other strips of red paint were not bothered, which has led to the theory that there is something in black paint that prevents expansion.

The two lights of glass were 12 feet long by seven feet wide, and the popping of them cost somebody a rather important piece of scratch. The moral seems to be if you are doing any painting in the town paint the town red. Not black.

LOSING FEARS. Historically, women organized around some great social cause or in the field of education have been dominated by certain fears of "anomy political," but this fear is losing its ancient hold.
